VARSITY QUINT OUTPLAYS RICHMOND HOWITZERS AND WIN EASILY

Score 59-30 Indicates Form of Indian Basketeers
Captain Jones Cages Thirteen Field Goals

Starting the game with a rush the Indian basket tossers early gained the lead over the Richmond Howitzers and won easily the cage contest staged here Saturday night by a 59-30 score. It was the first time in several years that the ex-champions of the state had taken the count at the hands of the locals, but the attack of the Orange and Black Saturday night was irresistible.

Gayle started the scoring when he tossed a field goal from a difficult angle after a few seconds of play. Captain Jones soon caged another and before the final whistle blew had scored thirteen field goals. The Indians went after the scalps of the militiamen in true red-skin fashion and doubled the score on them the first half 34-17.

At the opening of the second period the Howitzers attempted a come-back but this was soon checked and the Indians continued to pile up the score. The spirit in the game seemed to increase, a little rough work being in evidence occasionally. "Happy" Lawrence, the soldier left guard, did the best work for the visitors in this period caging five field goals.

The William and Mary quint displayed real championship form in this exhibition game. The work of the entire team was of high order. The two forwards, Zion and Jones, rank with any in the State and Gayle's playing of the center position was of the first order. The guards are improving with each game and look like prospective members of an All-Eastern Virginia quint.

On the Howitzer quint were two former William and Mary stars, the Metcalf brothers.

Line-up and summary:

W. & M.	Position	R. H.

DECEMBER LITERARY MAGAZINE REVIEWED BY PROFESSOR CLARK

Issue Has Many Alumni Contributions. Fulfills
Promise of Last Number

All of the poetry and one of the two essays in the December Magazine were written by men who are not now students in the college. This means, I suppose, that the editor did not have the material of proper quality from men who are now students. Will not every man in college who has an idea try to commit that idea to writing and submit the results to the editor of the Magazine? You do not know what you can do till you try.

In quality nothing in this issue of the Magazine is unworthy of its place. "Tiger," is a well-written and clearly conceived story. I have not read any large number of college magazines and so do not know the story writers but I risk a guess that the author of Tiger can do as good work of this kind as the best of them. I like to see college men treat themes other than the ordinary love episodes. But "Millionaire-Chauffeur" is an interesting little love story. The plot is simple and clear and the narrative smooth and unaffected. It is saying a good deal for a love story written by a college sophomore, to admit that it is free from affectation and slush. That is true of this story.

The poetry is worthy without being of unusual order. I recognize my friend J. W. Smith in the poems signed J. W. S. This gentleman certainly has a fertile poetic imagination and he seldom publishes a poem that does not show real merit. These three poems are not his best but are good. "Dropped Down Here from Dreamland" belongs with the many other pretty baby songs from the hand of J. W. S.

"Saint Francis of Assisi" is a sympathetic and, for a college man, well-written essay. It makes us long to have the author back in college again. Either by error of knowledge or of proof-reading affected is used for effected and affect for effect in this essay.

"Shakespeare and the Sonnets from the Portuguese" is in good style. The author shows genuine understanding and enjoyment of the

WAR RELIEF BALL AT COLONIAL INN PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

Woman's Club of Williamsburg Gives Delightful
Benefit Entertainment

Despite the inclement weather last Friday night it was a gay company that assembled at the Colonial Inn for the dance given by the Woman's Club of Williamsburg as an initial effort to raise money for the War Relief Association.

Everything possible was done to make the occasion a brilliant one for the young people. The rooms were tastefully decorated in holly and mistletoe and the colors of the holiday season. Hulcher's orchestra, of Norfolk, provided the music for the dancing, and pleased all with their spirited rendition of the latest selections.

At about midnight coffee and sandwiches were served and the dancing was then continued until after two o'clock.

In the parlors of the Inn card tables were arranged, and the older people enjoyed themselves at bridge for several hours.

Among those present were:

Miss Mary Branch Spencer with Mr. Caldwell, Miss Alvey, of Richmond, with Mr. Woodson; Miss Elizabeth Macon with Mr. Ellis, Miss Mary Lyon Tyler with Mr. James Lane, Miss Margaret Tyler with Mr. A. D. Parker, Miss Elbert Moncure with Mr. M. H. Williams, Miss Mary Cary Moncure with Mr. J. N. Early, Miss Bozarth with Mr. E. D. Spencer, Miss Lula Brooks with Mr. Armistead, Miss Mabel Brooks with Mr. S. B. Hall, Miss Geddy with Mr. Miller, Miss Martha Spencer with Mr. Nottingham, Miss Peachy with Mr. B. R. James, Miss Carrie Cole Lane with Mr. Moncure, Miss Anne Ruffin with Mr. Hubbard, Mrs. Warburton with Mr. Spencer, Dr. and Mrs. Draper, Dr. and Mrs. Hankins, Mr. and Mrs. Vaden, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Spencer, Messrs. Harris, H. P. Williams, Tucker, Geddy, Green, Robinson, Ferguson and Goodwin.

Chaperones: Mesdames Tyler, Bennett, Garrett, Foster, Davis, Hall, Cocke, Henley

The friends of Mr. Martin Feinstein, ex-'13, will be glad to hear that he is now an instructor of rhetoric at the University of Michigan.

DR. W. D. WEATHERFORD, STUDENT SEC. FOR SOUTH, TO BE HERE IN FEB.

International Y. M. C. A. Leader will Conduct a Series of Meetings at William and Mary

The International Y. M. C. A. Southern Student Secretary, Dr. W. D. Weatherford, of Nashville, Tenn., will visit William and Mary Feb. 5, 6, 7 to conduct a series of meetings of the student-body. Mr. M. W. Lee, State Student Secretary, was here Thursday to make arrangements for his visit.

Dr. Weatherford is one of the foremost Christian leaders of the South and he ranks as one of the nation's ablest lecturers on religious and sociological topics. For the past fifteen years he has been connected with the Young Men's Christian Association student work in the South. He has written several books, his "Negro Life in the South" being used by Dr. Wilson, of the local faculty, in a series of talks before the Y. M. C. A. on the negro problem.

In his youth Dr. Weatherford attended Weatherford College in his native state, Texas. He then entered Vanderbilt University which conferred on him the M. A. and Ph. D. degrees. At Vanderbilt he was noted as a gymnasium athlete being physical director there at one time.

A few years ago Dr. Weatherford was chosen by John R. Mott, head of the International Y. M. C. A. and the World's Student Federation, to visit the chief colleges of the world. This task was ably carried out by him in the usual, efficient, Weatherford fashion.

One of the most recent achievements of this leader is his making permanent the Blue Ridge Conference, a great gathering of Christian organization leaders and Y. M. C. A. workers at Blue Ridge in the mountains of western North Carolina every summer.

William and Mary is exceedingly fortunate to have a man of this caliber lecture here for three days.

Mr. B. W. Woods was in Newport News Friday on business for the Colonial Echo.

Several students of the College and people of the town went to Newport News last week to see the production of "The Birth of a Nation."

HOSPITALITY OR A DANCE?

To invite a guest to dine with him and then eat the food before the friend has arrived, we are sure would never be thought proper by anyone of our students. Yet there is a class of men at college who harbor a custom as unhospitable as this. Invitations to our dances in the Gymnasium are sent to many people who are not on the campus all day, and the German Club always hopes for and expects alumni to return for the various dances, but the very hosts of the dance will fill their cards hours before the dance starts and leave the guests to shift for themselves.

At our last german two visiting alumni were heard to remark at the close of the evening that they would never come back to another dance at William and Mary because they could never dance with the girls they knew. The men in college who had invited these men had filled the girl's cards long before the alumni had thought of leaving their work for an evening's entertainment, and when the guest arrived the host said, "No, I have saved the best for myself. You can hunt around and see if by chance anything has been left."

There are some who will say that the practice cannot be stopped, but we are forced to believe it can. Has there ever been an attempt to put an end to it? Has the German Club ever taken steps to prevent it? Several years ago the young men of Williamsburg formed a german club and it has been said that the dances given by this club were among the most enjoyable ever given in Williamsburg. The one important rule of the club was that no dance should be made before the time for that individual dance, and to this rule is attributed the popularity of the dances. The members did abide by the rule and the success with which it met recommends it to the German Club of William and Mary. Nearly every dancer in College is a member of the German Club, and if a rule were passed by this organization requesting that no cards be made until the dancer reached the Gymnasium, the duty of the members to abide by this ruling would soon entirely end the troublesome and unhospitable custom which is at present being practiced.

We have received a communication from the secretary of the Advisory Committee of University Presidents on Summer Military Instruction Camps for Students enclosing the report of that committee. In another column we publish this report for the benefit of any students who may consider attending one of these camps which have now been held for three summers. Any further information desired may be obtained from the secretary, President H. S. Drinker of Lehigh University.

With the question of military training now being agitated at William and Mary as well as all over the country, these camps should prove of especial interest, and we hope sometime in the future to say more about them.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Among the old men noted back in Williamsburg during the holidays were: Messrs. K. A. Agee, A. W. James, F. D. Goodwin, Wayne Metcalf, J. L. Hall, Jr., T. F. Hall, Lewis Jones, B. D. Peachy, Will Metcalf, G. B. Geddy.

We are glad to see Mrs. Lyon G. Tyler able to be out again after a short illness.

"Visions of sugar plums" were not enough to lure several men away from Williamsburg for Christmas. About sixteen spent their holidays here.

Mr. G. J. Lane has resigned from College and Messrs. Lohr and Woolfolk from the Academy.

Maurice Stryker, giant guard, (both football and basketball) is now rooming in Taliaferno.

If it is really necessary, better burn the "midnight oil" now and not the "3 a. m." in a few weeks.

Mr. G. B. Zehmer was in Richmond a few days the latter part of last week.

SUMMER MILITARY CAMPS

Report of the Advisory Committee of University Presidents on the Summer Military Instruction Camps for Students.

These camps have now been in operation for three successive summers. In their growth and admirable management during the past two summers of 1914 and 1915, they have more than fulfilled the expectations of those endorsing, based on the first year's experience in the summer of 1913. The camps of 1913 and 1914 were held before the breaking out of the great war abroad, which has brought into greater prominence than before their value to the nation.

We repeat the hearty endorsement given in our reports on the Camps held in 1913 and 1914. This year they were visited by a number of the members of our committee, and the committee as a whole has given attention and thought to their educational usefulness in the summer season.

The students attending are under careful oversight. The excellence of food, sanitation, and medical care, has been well maintained. The students have an ideal five weeks outing, pleasurable and beneficial to them; and the instruction, drill, cavalry exercises, field manoeuvres, field surveying and field work generally, give them in the continuous five weeks training, and insight into military matters. They are, in addition to this regular work, given ample time for recreation and rest.

We commend the camps to the authorities and students of the Universities and Colleges of the country. We believe that the training and instruction which the students attending receive not only emphasize the dangers and losses of wars lightly and unpreparedly entered into, but we also believe that the training given is excellent, and a great benefit, mental and physical, to the students attending.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Prof. Keeble conducted voluntary chapel service last week, and judging from the attendance a large number of the students have resolved to make the new year one not only of mental and physical development but spiritual as well. In the few minutes used each morning Professor Keeble brought home some profound truths to the hearts of the students—truths that inspire a man to do his best regardless of the cost—truths that help a man to succeed. Certainly, the average student is not so familiar with the Bible that it will be a waste of time for him to attend the chapel service. Then we can conclude only that the desire for spiritual growth is being suppressed for intellectual and physical reasons.

The freshmen of the University of Chicago are publishing "The Green Cap," a weekly paper. It is printed in green ink and all names of freshmen are printed backwards.

DECEMBER LITERARY MAGAZINE

REVIEWED BY PROFESSOR CLARK

Sonnets from the Portuguese but does not understand Shakespeare's sonnets. And they are hard to understand. Mr. Combs seems to assume, for instance, that all Shakespeare's Sonnets are addressed to a woman, whereas more than half are addressed to a man, some from which the author of the essay quotes as if they were to a lady. Mr. Combs says Shakespeare does not allow false rhymes, yet the first sonnet shows "die" with "memory," the second "field" with "held," the third "husbandry" with "prosperity" and so on. Nor is Shakespeare so perfect in the division of thought and sequence of octane and sextette as Mr. Combs seems to think. If the author had had the courage to state his evident preference for Mrs. Browning's sonnets he would have improved a good essay.

It is surprising to find only the editorial written by the Editor-in-chief. If he can get others to write it is perhaps better than to write himself. "Dissatisfaction and Values," in spite of the slip in concord in the first sentence, shows unusual philosophic grasp and power of expression.

The December issue of the Magazine realizes the promise of the November edition.

W. P. Clark.

SPORTORIAL

After a two week's layoff on account of the Christmas holidays, William and Mary's basketball team has begun its final preparation for the championship games which start early in February.

Before the vacation the Orange and Black quint played three exhibition games, losing two by close scores and taking the third by a run-a-way score. These games, with the Howitzer game last Saturday, have served their purpose. They have given the coach a good idea as to the ability of the men. The regular outfit in these contests consisted of Captain Jones and Zion, forward; Zehmer and Stryker, guards; and Gayle, center. Zion was shifted from guard to a forward position and has shown up particularly well thus far. The team is very fortunate in having three substitutes of extraordinary ability. The men referred to are Geddy, Robertson and Cunningham. Geddy and Robertson played on the second team last year and developed into valuable players. Cunningham played last year with the Hampton High aggregation. They are quick, accurate passers and men of some experience.

Saturday night the Indians play the Richmond Blues, and if fight and determination can deliver the goods, it's a safe bet that the "chiefs" are going to scalp 'em.

Williams College suffered the loss of a chemical laboratory last month when a $100,000 building was completely destroyed.

At the meeting of the Philomathean Literary Society Saturday night eight members were dropped from the roll for non-payment of dues. R. L. Combs was elected assistant editor of the Literary Magazine.
